(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.)

Butler's Programme

NEW YORK, Aug 13—The Times Boston special says The next move in the Butler campaign will be a public reception to Butler by the Kearney reception committee At a meeting to night the following resolution was passed

Resolved That we hail with feelings of unmingled pleasure and delight the announcement of Butler that he abandons the Republican party and with open arms we welcome him to the ranks of the people

It is understood that Butler will accept the invitation, and will soon speak in Faneuil hall A bargain between him and some of the leaders of the Democratic party is contemplated It is understood he agrees to use his strength to carry the congressional districts for the Democrats and they in turn agree to fix things so that no nomination be made at their state convention for governor leaving him a clear field to run against the Republican candidate He will receive the greenback nomination which will be given at their convention this month and now says he will accept it

A Fatal Affray.

NEW YORK, Aug 13—The Times Augusta (Ga) special says a difficulty occurred at Edgefield S C, yesterday in which three men Brooker, Toney, Thomas Booth and James Booth, were killed, and seven others wounded, one of them mortally. The trouble grew out of a family feud of long standing Toney's brother was killed several years ago and Toney suspected the murder was committed by the Booths He therefore swore he would kill the latter on sight The hostile parties met to day when Toney proceeded to carry out his threat He drew a pistol and fired, killing the two Booths before he was shot himself. Friends of both parties were drawn into the fight, and about 17 shots were fired in all There was a Democratic political meeting in progress at the time about half a mile from the village of Edgefield in which the shooting occurred and Gov Hampton, as soon as he heard of the fight, ordered a company of state troops to the scene. There was no fighting after the troops reached the spot Toney killed a negro in Edgefield a short time ago, but it does not seem to have resulted in any curtailment of his liberty

Yellow Fever.

A Port Eads dispatch says there are three new cases including the telegraph operator one death

Laborers' Troubles.

MILWAUKEE, WIS, Aug 13,—At a conference this afternoon between a committee appointed by the Blacksmiths' and Machinists' Union and Manager Merrill of the St Paul railway the latter presented a written statement in substance that the company would reopen their shops to morrow and take back those who wished to return at the wages paid them at the time they quit work on Saturday, provided the union would withdraw its protests. The committee reported to the union that Mr Merrill had assured them no further reduction would be made The protest was then withdrawn and thus the matter is amicably settled and the men will all return to work to-morrow.

Potter Investigation.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—Witness was asked about the course that was then taken in regard to ascertaining the attitude of Governor Hayes toward the state government of Louisiana, when he went on and stated that as a newspaper representative, and as a man who was not actively engaged in politics, he was selected to go to Ohio and ascertain the views of Governor Hayes and what policy he would adopt in case of his election Witness then went on to state that he proceeded to Ohio some time before the returning board met, and was about stating the result of a conversation he had with Halstead who gave him a sealed letter to Hayes when he was interrupted by Hiscock, who objected to the questions and answers that would be throwing mud on the president

Butler said his question to witness was a plain one, and he merely asked him to state as near as he could, the result of his interview with Halstead, the editor of the Cincinnati Commercial and he did not see how that was throwing mud on the president by detailing exactly what was said or done In regard to this question he thought that they should go into the length and breadth of it We are here to ascertain if Hayes was elected by a fair count He said it was shown in the evidence that Nicholls had received about 1,300 votes more than Hayes, and that Packard had received so many votes over Hayes, and yet the wonderful result the country already knows Butler also spoke of the vote that had been given in South Carolina, and said All this seems strange Many persons have seen where lightning had struck but scarcely any one has seen lightning strike twice in the same place Such phenomena would surely have got into the newspapers He thought that every latitude should be given in this investigation, and he saw no objection to the question, as no electoral commission was then thought of.

Mr Hiscock intimated that Gen Butler was endeavoring to show that forgery had been committed, and adjudged that such evidence was sought to be obtained with a view of connecting the president of the United States with forgery, and looking towards his impeachment. He thought they should not step outside of the letter of the resolution.

After some further discussion the chairman said he had no objection to the question, whereupon witness then detailed at length his interview with Halstead and his subsequent interviews with Gov Hayes and Lamar. Witness told Halstead he had come on for the purpose of learning Gov. Hayes' views in regard to the south, and what policy he would adopt in the event of his being counted in as president Witness in course of the conversation with Halstead, told him that what could be done would be done to save the state, remarking to him, "Whatever horse loses, our horse wins" Witness also told him that whatever cargo they threw out it would be cargo of least value. Halstead told witness that Hayes was a good fellow and meant to do right towards the south Witness told Halstead he had come there on purpose to find that out. Witness detailed a further conversation he had with Halstead and, then spoke of his visit to Gov Hayes with a letter of introduction from Halstead, which letter was sealed, and of the contents of which he was ignorant His interview with Gov Hayes was of an exceedingly pleasant character, and he learned that the governor entertained the most friendly feeling toward the south Witness told him the state must be saved at all hazard to the Democrats, and that whatever they threw over would in that respect be of the least value to them He also told the governor that they could establish or show a vote of 13,000 Gov Hayes told witness that he had no desire for the presidency unless he were counted in fairly He spoke very kindly and courteously of the south

Witness detailed at length the conversations he had at various times before the matter was definitely settled with Mr Lamar and others Witness said from conversations with various Republican leaders, he understood that if Louisiana and South Carolina were counted for Hayes the government of those states would be given to the Democrats They proceeded on this assurance and the assurances were carried out

General Butler observed that such assurances seemed to be much the same nature of a bargain

Witness said he was offered the position of naval officer but recommended that it be given to a nigger He would not take a position where he would be obliged to take care of Kenner of the returning board General Grant's order known as the "Sniffer Order" was issued a short time before he went out of office at the urgent solicitation of Republicans When he left New Orleans to call on Gov Hayes he believed the returning board would declare Packard elected In that conversation Hayes told him he did not want the presidential office except he got it fairly General Cowles was present at the time Hayes said his letter of acceptance was not a mere empty form of words but he intended to live up to it in its broadest spirit and he intended to treat the people of the south with fairness and justice He said nothing as to what state government he would recognize in law He understood fairness and justice to mean the withdrawal of the troops and the election of persons receiving the highest vote He believed Hayes to be a well meaning, honest man

Gen Butler cross-examined the witness as to whether he did not understand justice and fairness to mean a recognition of the Democratic government

He replied that Hayes made no pledges of any kind and witness was left to infer what these words meant

Gen Butler tried to show that they implied a bargain

Witness admitted that when relating his talk with Hayes to his friends he accompanied the information with the statement that he understood Louisiana was to be saved An article in the Ohio State Journal in the old time regular bloody shirt style and given as Hayes sentiments towards the south, created great excitement until it was proved that Gov Hayes had no such opinions and never authorized the article

Gen Butler—Had you any doubt that Hayes understood he was pledging himself to you that your state would be placed in the hands of the Democrats if he was elected president?

A long discussion ensued between Gen Butler and Mr Hiscock as to the question

Witness replied that he understood from Hayes manner and conversation that the Nicholls government would be given a chance to establish itself Adjourned

WASHINGTON CITY.

Workingmen's Meeting

WASHINGTON, Aug 13—The first of a series of mass meetings under the auspices of the workingmen's assembly was held here last night The speakers were moderate in tone and appealed to their auditors to abandon irresponsible leaders and to enter into a systematic well revised plan for their own protection They said many attempts had been made to indoctrinate ideas in the heads of the true mechanics by strollers which if carried out would do no good They did not propose to array one class of laborers against another nor to array labor against capital Incendiary speeches would not benefit the workingmen There must be a combination between all trades of the country and unity of action if they wished to force all those who are disposed to pauperize labor to accede to their demands

Postal Treaty Approved.

Row between Britons and Union Men.

OTTAWA, Aug 13—About midnight last night a gang of about 200 union men made a tour through the lower town insulting every one they met and yelling like demons Several Britons were assaulted, among them a young man named Guon, who was beaten badly About the same time the young Britons returned from Chaudiere Junction and on learning of this proceeded in a body to the lower town armed with revolvers At the corner of Sussex and York streets they were met by a number of union men, who made some insulting remarks, at which the Britons opened fire on them, but injured no one of the crowd Quite an inoffensive old man named Giles (Protestant) got a stray shot in the leg, and another man named Marks was wounded in the arm When about a hundred shots had been fired the Britons marched down St Patrick's street in a body, shouting and hooting like demons and keeping up a continuous fire. Here they wrecked the Villeneuves House where a dance was in progress, shooting several parties and beating others with rocks and stones Father Moller's house was also attacked and the windows broken, but none of the inmates were injured Larocque's Hotel was next demolished the proprietor being struck with a stone and severely cut in the forehead The crowd then marched up Dalhousie street where other parties were shot and wounded with stones The police followed them from the start and made several arrests but did not succeed in breaking up the gang until they reached the corner of George street The wounded are as follows Policeman McKenna shot in the leg Kelley fractured skull, B. Conway, brutally beaten, Northwick shot in the arm; Taylor shot in the head Giles shot in the leg Larocque, cut over the right temple Marks shot in the arm. A man named Williamson had his hat riddled with bullets. Christian was shot in the arm. Several other persons were shot, but the names are not ascertained With the exception of Kelley, none of the wounds are considered dangerous, The arrests made are Andrew Foster Chas Ennis Fabian Larocque and Isadore Larocque

State of Siege Raised.

HAVANA, Aug 13—The state of siege established 6th February has been raised

PERSONAL AND GENERAL

It is estimated that the number of settlements on public lands this year will be nearly double those of last year The land office at Washington is hard at work in consequence of the increase

A correspondent writes from Deadwood that the most vigorous waltzer at a dance excused himself at 11 30 o'clock because he had a stage to rob Business before pleasure

The cottonwood poles used on the line of the Southern Pacific railroad to support the telegraph wires have sprouted and give promise of supplying a continuous line of flourishing shade trees

Ex Governor Seymour when asked the other day what he thought of the Massachusetts Democrats nominating Butler for governor said Without giving the subject much thought I am of the opinion that it would be like Beaconsfield's trick in being too cunning to be wise

In 1844 Disraeli said There is an irresistible law of our modern civilization which has decreed that the system which cannot bear discussion is doomed This is the view Mr Gladstone takes of the Berlin treaty If there is nothing under cover the government party need not be so nervous and irritable under discussion

An Ohio woman gave birth a few days ago to five children, four boys and one girl all of whom were living at last accounts The Indianapolis Journal in commenting on the subject says It is a well known physiological fact that in times of war male births largely exceed the female The demand for Ohio men for office seems to be having the same effect on the population of that state

THURMAN'S THUNDERS

The Senator from Ohio Lays his Uncle Billy Allen in the Shade Knocks the Pins from under Hendricks and gets Ahead of Voorhees

HAMILTON O Aug 13—Senator Thurman spoke to a large audience here to day He first defended his action in accepting the Ohio Democratic platform and argued that he was consistent in that acceptance He gave a series of reasons for preferring greenbacks to national bank notes They were first a national bank currency means the [illegible] of the national debt [illegible] the national bank system tends to combine concentrate and intensify the money power [illegible] the national bank circulation is a special privilege that pays many millions of dollars annually into the pockets of the shareholders and takes as many millions annually out of the pockets of the people He went into an extended analysis of the state platform showing that it was not favorable to inflation or kiting but demanded what the public had long asked for He continued

Now has the rule of the Republican party since the close of the civil war 13 years ago been wise and beneficent? I think that this question must be answered in the negative It is not necessary to go into a detailed examination of all its measures nor could that be done in the limits of a speech or indeed in many speeches Nor is it necessary to assert that all its measures have been bad and injurious It is sufficient to look at the general result and see whether it has resulted in good government and prosperity or the reverse Now certainly no one will deny that this country has for the last years suffered as perhaps no other country ever did suffer from depression in every branch of business In every industrial occupation the entire body of the producing classes employers employes and middlemen have been affected Bankrupts are numbered by tens if not by hundreds of thousands and the aggregate losses almost defies computation The number of laborers thrown out of work or reduced to half time and diminished wages has been estimated by millions and however exaggerated the estimate may be the extent of the evil has no parallel in the history of this if indeed it has in the history of any people Startling as is the fact and at first view almost incomprehensible that in a country whose population averages but eleven persons to the square mile there have been and there yet are thousands destitute of bread The money interest alone had flourished He argued that a vast contraction had taken place even during the three and a half years Greenbacks had decreased $35,000 000 and national bank notes $29 000 000 besides $12 000 000 greenbacks deposited for the redemption of bank notes Of the possibility of making resumption of specie payments he said Great Britain and France are pre-eminently the hard money countries of christendom The former has in coin and bullion about three dollars for every dollar of her paper money Of course she can maintain specie payments, at least so long as she avoids war France has more metallic than paper money and when at peace can easily maintain specie payment but the United States have at least three dollars in paper for every dollar in coin and even a little war or a change of the balance of trade might so long as that disproportion exists make shipwreck of their pretended specie payment. According to the best information I can obtain, the product of our mines is likely to fall off It is probable that the maximum product has been reached and that unless new and valuable mines are discovered there will henceforth be a steady decrease of production But nevertheless, if the balance of trade should continue in our favor the influx of gold and silver together with the product of the mines would enable us to begin and maintain specie payments quite as soon as justice to the debtor class would permit. If this be true why resort to forced resumption? Why crush the unfortunate in order to anticipate by a comparatively brief period an event that would come naturally and unattended with severe distress

He then showed that the expenses of the last year of domestic administration, ending June, 1860 were only fifty nine millions while in the last year in which the Republican party had unlimited control that ending June, 1875 the expenses were, exclusive of pensions and interest, one hundred and forty millions or two and one half times as much as the Democratic expenses The average expenditure per capita from 1858 to 1860 under the Democrats, was $1 84 and from 1868 to 1875 under Republican rule it was per capita $2 45 He declared the credit mobilier the Pacific mail the Belknap trial the villainies of the custom house the straw bids of the post office the Indian and whisky rings and the long list of defaulters in every department have become matters of history and attest too clearly for controversy the need of reform

But no substantial reform you may rest assured will take place so long as Republican rule shall prevail The evil is too deeply seated to be reached by anything short of an entire change of administration

He denounced the methods by which President Hayes was seated He concluded with a warning that the Republican leaders intend to perpetuate their power by keeping alive the sectional animosity which has cursed the nation

Fellow citizens—Nothing more unjust nothing more unpatriotic, nothing more injurious to the peace welfare and prosperity of the republic, nothing more clearly demonstrative of the necessity for a change of rulers and the inauguration of an era of justice, for fraternity, than is afforded by these facts can be imagined. Do you wish the union preserved? then support those who would bind it together by the ties of fraternal feeling, and a common interest as well as by a constitution and by laws Do you revere justice and advocate equality of rights? then support the party on whose banner justice and equality are indelibly inscribed Do you wish to see the country strong and prosperous? then support the policy that shedding its benign influence upon every part gives irresistible strength and universal well-being to the whole

A Chance for Kearney

From the Chicago Tribune

Since Dennis Kearney has gone to Boston to "Down with the land monopolists" it may not be out of place to ascertain how many of that class of "blood suckers" as he calls them there are in Illinois According to the national census tables we find this state was divided into farms as follows In 1850 there were 76 207 farms averaging 158 acres each In 1860 there were 143 310 farms averaging 146 acres each. In 1870 there were 202 803 farms averaging 128 acres each In 1878 we may estimate 220 000 farms averaging 120 acres each In 1870 there were [illegible] pieces of cultivated land containing over [illegible] and under 10 acres belonging to gardeners and fruit growers, [illegible] over 10 and under 20 acres [illegible] over 20 and under 50 acres 68 130 tracts over 50 and under 100 acres being mostly small farms 68 940 over 100 and under 500 acres being mostly 160 acre farms [illegible] containing over 500 and under 1 000 acres each See how the number of farms exceeding 100 acres dropped down as compared with the class which contains the 100 and the 80 acre farms The total number of persons who actually worked those 202 803 farms in 1870 was 376 441. This [illegible] consisted of the farmers and their sons and the hired men The number of hired men was probably not one twentieth part of the whole—the other nineteen twentieths being the farmers and their boys Kearney will have an interesting time when he tramps over Illinois preaching "Down with the land monopolists" We would like to see him addressing a crowd of granger land monopolists and saying to them what he said of them to the Boston hoodlums viz Never compromise Get these thieving capitalists into a corral and when you've got em corraled God d—n em grind em It is these thieving capitalists who don't believe in any eight hour laws or ten hours pay for eight hours work or maintaining of penitentiary convicts in idleness at public expense When Kearney gets em corraled let him undertake to bell his cat

GEN CROOK AGAIN

HIS VIEWS ON THE BANNACK OUTBREAK—ACCOUNT OF HIS VISIT TO THE FORT HALL RESERVATION DESTITUTION AND HUNGER STARTED THE INDIANS ON THE WAR PATH

[From the Omaha Herald July 28]

Gen Crook having returned from his visit to the Bannacks, the Herald sought to obtain from him such facts as would be of interest to the public together with his views upon the present status of Indian affairs

Question—To what place did you go?

Gen Crook—I went to Fort Hall

Q—Is that on the Bannack reservation?

Gen C—Yes the reservation lies around in that bend of the mountain pointing to a map

Q—Did you see any of the Indians?

Gen C—Yes I saw them and talked with them about the troubles

Q—How many are there?

Gen C—There are about 1 500 of Bannacks and Shoshones

Q—How many of them are off the reservation on the war path?

Gen C—Not more than 150 warriors and those who went took their families with them

Q—What caused them to go on the war path?

Gen C (very earnestly)—Hunger nothing but hunger There was not to exceed 150 fighting men from the Bannack and Shoshonese who went away many of them poorly armed The whole Indian situation is changed since the advent of the breech loading arms They have now learned their power and before they will submit to starvation they are determined to avenge themselves There is proof from unquestionable authority that there have been cases where Indians have actually starved to death on their reservations within the last few years The proof of this is incontestable Spotted Tail told me himself once that he knew of some of his Indians who had died from starvation

Q—Why cannot the Indians support themselves as they used to do?

Gen C—The whites have come in and occupied about all the grounds the Indians derived their living from They are left almost entirely destitute and must depend on the government There is no game there is scarcely a jack rabbit left on their reservations The disappearance of the game which means starvation may seem a small thing to us but to them it is their all and he must be a very contemptible being who would not fight for his life

Q—Who is responsible for this state of affairs?

Gen C—It is our policy and not the present head of the interior department for I believe that the secretary and commissioner are both honest and try to do their best for the Indians, but we have swindled them from the days of William Penn until now

Q—What should our policy be

Gen C—We should be honest and just to the Indians punish them when they misbehave, and protect them when they are right This is the policy of the English government and they have no trouble

Q—It is charged that the frontiersmen are bad men and are responsible for most of the wrongs perpetrated on the Indians

Gen C—I think this is a mistake My experience is that men are about the same everywhere, These frontiersmen came originally from the east, and if they are rascals here they were hypocrites there Much harm is done by those people sent out from the east as commissioners, who know nothing about the Indian and misrepresent him Many of the outrages are committed under the garb of religion I believe in religion It is what raised us from barbarism to civilization Where you find one wrong thing done by religious men you will find many good things and when we consider what good has been accomplished by it while it has had to carry the odium of the wrongs committed by men professedly religious we must acknowledge that there is a wonderful power in it. There have been many wrongs committed against the Indians under the garb of religion

Q—Do the Indians comprehend their present situation, that the game is gone, and that they must change their mode of life?

Gen C—Certainly they do The Bannacks whom I have just visited have done their best to cultivate the soil They have managed to put in 300 acres and will raise 6 000 bushels of wheat and about 50 acres of potatoes.

Q—Do the Indians under Spotted Tail and Red Cloud manifest a desire to learn agriculture?

Gen C—They are very anxious to learn, Even out at their old agency they went to work and planted to a considerable extent although it was thought then they would be removed from there.

Q—How long would it take them to become self sustaining?

Gen C—They would become self sustaining in four or five years if they had proper assistance and some one to take an interest in them and instruct them But they are in a great measure like children They must learn little by little. You cannot bring a man from barbarism to civilization in a day They know that their lands are gone, and the game has disappeared and they are very anxious to become independent and self sustaining Then if they were settled upon lands which were their own and every man had his little farm, and could see that he was provided for in the future it would break up these tribal relations If an Indian had a little farm of his own and could see that he could make a living off from it for himself and his family he would care very little about what the chief said, This is the only way these tribal relations will ever be broken up One might as well try to disperse a flock of sheep by an order as to break up an Indian tribe with one

Q—The Indians then are now on reservations where there is no game and must be fed by the government or starve

Gen C—Yes sir That is it. Their lands have been taken from them and they are entirely dependent on the government and they should be supplied so that they may live until they can learn a new mode of life a thing which they are very anxious to do It cannot be expected that they will stay on reservations where there is no possible way to get food and see their wives and children starve and die around them We have taken their lands deprived them of every means of living and it is only right that they should be supported until they can learn to support themselves

Q—It is strange that this state of affairs has never become public

Gen C—I have embodied these facts in my reports for years but I never have heard anything from them We will continue to have these outbreaks like the present one of the Bannacks as long as the present system prevails The Indians have never had any redress for wrongs committed against them I have known of squaws being ridden down lassoed and outraged and if an Indian would have said a word he would have been shot If crimes are not punished they will be committed anywhere No white man was ever convicted or punished for a crime committed against the Indians

Samuel J. Tilden's Chances.

"Gath," in Philadelphia Times,

Meantime Mr Tilden I regard as having a sure thing in the next national convention, on all the New England delegates New York New Jersey Kentucky and Indiana He has already completed his scheme in New York and will have the next state committee and convention. He could have had the present state committee according to Hiram Calkins if he had wanted it I say he will get Indiana because the development of the Thurman movement is already strong enough to scare Hendricks who will lead Indiana to the rear of Tilden and get on behind—as good a seat as he deserves Moreover by this time next year there will be only one Democratic issue —the cheating of our candidate. As well in a seduction case might the deceit be proven and some other women expect to get the benefit, as to make game on the fraud and not benefit the frauded Uncle Sammy G F—Great Fraudee Finally my Uncle Sam has a brand new barrel of money and Pelton is by his side to disburse it No other candidate has even a keg or firkin of money and the party must have an exchequer It will be a great campaign If Uncle Sammy wins it he will be a bigger man than old Grant The little Oregon draft may injure him in the campaign, the Michigan shinplasters, the back taxes, etc but then he is the Great Fraudee As for Grant he of course menaces our liberties Three terms were more than Washington had He kept Robeson Belknap Parson Newman etc on his staff But it is an age of glory and honesty Grant represents the glory and Uncle Sam the honesty

Rich Men's Sons.

[From the Chicago Tribune]

The president of one of our largest banks said to us recently, that a rich man's son had just left his place and was the last man of the kind he would ever employ The man was faithful honest and fulfilled intelligently and well all the duties required of him but just as he became accustomed to his work he found out it was too confining and a raw clerk had to be put in his place A bad look this is for rich young men but it is the old story repeated for the thousandth time If rich men's sons will not endure the drudgery by which nearly all their fathers secured money and positions they must take a secondary place in the next generation and after a while they drop out of sight amid the idle worthless herd if indeed they escape association with loafers and criminals What say the labor reformers to facts like these for facts they are beyond question Nearly every man in any leading position in the community began life poor Let the sons of our rich men take warning and go to work honestly and faithfully every day if they hope to fill the positions honorably held by their fathers

A QUESTION OF CLERICAL AID

SALEM Aug 12 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

As this is an age of retrenchment and reform I wish through your columns to call attention to what I deem an abuse of the civil service of the state The legislature of 1870 passed an act granting to Secretary Chadwick the sum of six hundred dollars per annum for clerical aid in his office The legislature of 1872 passed an act granting him one thousand dollars per annum for clerical aid in his office

The act of 1872 is upon the same subject and covers the whole of the subject matter embraced in the act of 1870, and, as I claim, is a substitute for the act of 1870 and repeals it by implication

The first act grants the secretary for clerical aid the sum of six hundred dollars per annum and the last act allows him the sum of one thousand dollars per annum for the same thing, namely, "clerical aid

I know that it was the general understanding among the members of the legislature of 1872 that they had only increased the allowance for clerical aid in the secretary's office to one thousand dollars per annum, not that they had added one thousand dollars annually to what was previously allowed him, making in all, the sum of sixteen hundred dollars per annum Judge Boise in the case of the State of Oregon vs Benjamin, 2 Ogn 126 delivering the opinion of the supreme court says To repeal an act by implication there must be a subsequent statute on the same subject and providing for the same subject matter, so that at the time the legislature enacted the subsequent statute they must have intended it as a substitute for the former This decision is directly in point in the matter which I am considering The act of 1872 is nearly in the identical language of the act of 1870 It is upon the same subject and provides for the same subject matter and therefore, it is a substitute for the earlier act Suppose a farmer employs a man to work for him by the year and promises to pay him annually for his labor the sum of three hundred dollars At the end of the first year the farmer says to his laborer, I will pay you for the next year the sum of four hundred dollars"

Now, if the man works the second year can he recover from his employer $300 on the original contract, and $400 on the second contract? Certainly he could not, the last contract being for the same service, is a substitute for the first one and annuls it. The same principle applies to Mr Chadwick The legislature of 1870 provided that he might draw from the treasury per annum the sum of $600, and the same body in 1872 wisely increased the amount to $1,000 Mr Chadwick took advantage of the fact that he audited his own claim and drew the sum of $1,600 per annum, instead of $1 000 as permitted by law By the 1st of September next he will have drawn on the act of 1870, since it was repealed, as I have shown, about $3 500 If my position is tenable, Mr. Chadwick has no more right to this money than Sam May had to the ten or fifteen thousand dollars which he owed the state when he went out of office in 1870 The case of Grant county vs Sels, 5 Ogn 243, bears upon the point which I insist upon Prior to 1870, the statute gave the county judge of Grant county an annual salary of $1,200 But the legislature of 1870 passed an act which provides that he shall have an annual salary of $800 (See laws of 1870 p. 62) This act contains no repealing clause and makes no reference to the former act The supreme court held that the act of 1870 repealed the former law by implication Sels, was county judge and disregarded the act of 1870 and drew his salary under the old law The supreme court compelled him to pay back the money which he owed in excess of the amount allowed him by the subsequent law,

I maintain that Mr Chadwick has drawn about $3,500 which justly and legally belongs to the state and the district attorney ought to begin proceedings for the money

VERITAS

New Way of Butter-Making.

[From the Ohio Farmer]

From an English butter maker recently from the "mother country," we have learned some new ideas in regard to butter-making, and after experimenting under the new plan some two months or more, we feel confident to say the new plan is worth a fair trial by any one keeping from one to three cows, for a summer dairy, as we are confident butter made after this plan has a sweeter flavor and will keep longer than when made after the old plan The method as practiced of late is as follows

After the milk has stood 12 hours, strained and set in the usual way, we set the pan containing the milk over hot water and let it come to a scalding heat. Then it is set away and stands 12 or 18 hours longer before skimming The butter comes very quickly, the cream only needs a little stirring At least, our butter comes in from one to three minutes I stir the cream in a jar every other morning From 12 pounds of milk per milking we make one and a half pounds of butter per day on an average, The cream should be taken off with as little milk as possible dipped with it as then the cream keeps sweet and pure for a greater length of time, also causing the butter to come sooner when stirred There will be but little butter milk—sometimes only what can be rinsed out with water

We find that butter made from this "cooked cream" as it is termed in England can be washed without injury In fact it requires washing to perfect its quality We use the Ashton salt, and find it the best we have ever experimented with in the dairy We work the butter twice before packing in crocks for our summer use After testing this plan for the past two months we find its merits will certainly induce us to continue in its practice until the factory closes After that our stock of milk will be so increased that to follow this method longer would hardly seem practicable.

It is a matter that might pay investigation, to find whether it would pay to get vats sufficient in size to hold each milking of the dairy and have them so constructed as to be heated at will; then, when the milk has stood 12 hours bring it to scalding heat—say 190 degrees—treating as heretofore The butter made after the manner herein described has a different taste from that made from raw cream but with usage the taste is soon educated to prefer butter made from the cooked cream.

Values by Law.

[From the Richmond Dispatch]

The wonderful theory of these greenbackers is based upon the idea that the government can establish values by law If so the issuing of greenbacks as a means of inflating the currency would be a useless expense and an inexcusable waste of time It would be just as easy to pass an act of congress providing that the mints shall recoin the two hundred millions of gold and silver now in the treasury and mark each one dollar coin ten dollars each five dollar coin fifty dollars each ten dollar coin a hundred dollars or what would be still simpler and better an act providing that one dollar shall hereafter pass for ten ten for a hundred and so on It would thus take but a short time to inflate the currency and have two thousand millions of dollars [illegible] in circulation No greenbacker could reasonably object to this scheme It proposes fiat money absolute money or irredeemable money as you may choose to call it but still it would be better money than the irredeemable greenbacks because it would really be worth one tenth of its face value whereas irredeemable greenbacks would be worth nothing

BOOKS FOR THE STATE PRISON.

SALEM, Aug. 12, 1878.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I desire to avail myself of a brief space in the columns of your journal for the purpose of acknowledging the receipt of five dozen copies of the Gospel Hymns bound in board, sent to me by gentlemen in Portland for the use of the inmates of the state prison.

I would be glad to furnish with this expression of my grateful acknowledgments the names of the benevolent gentlemen who so generously contributed to the purchasing of these books but for fear of giving offence to those who in acts of benevolence like this would not have their left hand know what their right hand doeth. And yet I cannot feel satisfied to pass by in silence the name of Wm Wadhams, Esq., as one who, at my request, contributed part of the sum necessary to purchase the books, and obtained the rest of the sum by applying for contributions to other gentlemen of kindred spirit I also wish to make mention of J K Gill & Co, for the very liberal deduction which they made in the prices of the books purchased, and of Mr Himes for the labor he bestowed in stamping very handsomely, upon both sides of the cover of the book the word "Chapel." The value of the donation is enhanced by the cheerful promptitude with which it has been made, and Wells, Fargo & Co. have the gratitude of all interested for their kindness in delivering the books free of charge.

In these acknowledgements of the favors thus conferred Rev B. F. Bunch, the superintendent, and the wardens, Robert Thompson and Mr. Osborn, most cordially unite, while the prisoners fully appreciate this valuable token of kindly interest in their well-being

It should ever be remembered that the state gives absolutely nothing toward supplying religious instruction for the prisoners. In this age of advanced Christian civilization, it cannot be, as some among us argue, that the only object in imprisoning persons convicted of crime is to punish them Surely a feeling of common humanity, as also a proper regard for the interests of society, to say nothing of Christian charity, require that the reformation of the prisoner should have at least an equal prominence As God is no respecter of persons, so in like manner we are commanded to "do good unto all men," even as we would have them do unto us.

Forty bibles are needed that there may be a copy in each cell occupied by prisoners, who have no copy of the sacred scriptures. This is the more needful, as it is desirable to introduce bible readings in connection with the religious services held in the chapel.

Other instructive books, religious and secular, are needed as an addition to the common library,—such as books of history, travels, biography, and works on science and art.

Will not some of the good Christian women in the different towns make collections of books or money to supply this need, and forward to my address, care of George P. Litchfield, Salem? MRS. N M THORNTON

WEDNESDAY MORNING AUG 14 1878

PUBLIC INTERESTS SACRIFICED TO PARTISAN ENDS

Once more the Union Sentinel is awakened, as far as uncandid stupidity can be awakened for a characteristic and therefore scurrile and dishonest effort It says THE OREGONIAN has had much to say of late about locality in the election of the U S senator It sneeringly refers to candidates who depend on the claims of their district to carry them through It takes the ground that the best man should be elected irrespective of locality If Eastern and Western Oregon were similarly situated if their wants were not entirely different and if this section did not stand in need of national legislation to emancipate it from the grasp of one corporation, this might sound like the true doctrine upon which the election should be conducted Pursuing this course it comes to the conclusion that the state will not be ably represented unless that certain 'best man is elected and that the best man must come from Portland, and it might just as reasonably add that he who will best represent that certain corporation will best represent the state '

Now all this in spirit purpose and effect is sheer lying It could not be fitly described in other terms It is a studied and total misrepresentation of all that THE OREGONIAN urged on the subject. Our position, which was stated as plain as words could make it, was simply that it is absurd to insist on the claim of locality without regard to the ability and general merit of the candidate, that such a policy keeps a state's strongest men out of important representative positions where their services are needed and substitutes for them small politicians who never would be selected for character, ability, or capacity to serve the public, and that application of this narrow and foolish doctrine is as unjust when claimed in behalf of one part of the state as another

THE OREGONIAN hasn t the slightest objection to urge against the selection for representative positions of men who happen to reside in the eastern part of the state. But if there is nothing to be said in behalf of a candidate except that he is a resident of Union, Jackson or Multnomah county, we take leave to say that this wants much of being sufficient reason why such person should be selected. Chosen on such principle, our representatives would be contemptible in congress and a disgrace to the state Under such system even the editor of the Sentinel might set up his 'claims to an election A senator is now to be chosen but no part of the state is entitled to a senator in congress In what particular county, town, ward or precinct the candidate has his lodgings, or "gets his washing done,"—if he has any,—is no concern to the people at large Only a few small and selfish politicians or perhaps here and there a handful of provincial bigots, desire the selection to be made on any such pitiful consideration.

But the Sentinel would urge that there are peculiar reasons why the eastern part of the state should have special representation in congress. Let it be fully conceded that great interests in that section demand attention. But the one of transportation, which is the one mainly urged, is shared fully by Western with Eastern Oregon. Portland, especially, is as much interested in it as Eastern Oregon can be. Now if this claim of locality in the selection of representatives be thought so vastly important in Eastern Oregon that part of the state surely would have seized the opportunity gladly to vote for Mr. Hines, and thus not only would have secured a representative but would also have preserved its consistency. Did the Sentinel on this very recent occasion support the Eastern Oregon man? That it did not proves the hollowness and insincerity of its present position. The claim of locality and of the great public interests supposed or alleged to be involved in it were subordinated to a petty and contemptible partisanship and so it would be again under any similar or conceivable circumstances, and with the Sentinel's approval and help THE OREGONIAN supported the eastern Oregon man But the Sentinel not only opposed, but coarsely and villainously maligned him It is one of those little creatures, too narrow for an idea, which puts a scheme of partisan idolatry above every other consideration in the world

Assuming to speak for the people of Eastern Oregon, but possessing neither the intelligence nor sincerity which could authorize it to speak for anybody or anything except a ring of county politicians, it goes on to say "Again, this high-sounding motto, ' the best man,' etc., is particularly inappropriate when used by a journal which is generally recognized as the organ of that certain corporation whose object and interest is to shut out a certain section of the state from all national representation. It begins with the assumption that all candidates who come from a 'district' outside of Portland are far inferior in all the requisites of a senator, and only expect to obtain the election over their superior (?) rivals by concessions to the district which he represents." Also that " every measure thus far introduced in congress for our relief has been persistently, continually and bitterly opposed by this corporation organ '

Twaddle of this description shows how far misrepresentation, when inspired by an utterly unscrupulous stupidity, may go Certain measures, pretendedly for the relief of Eastern Oregon,' have been presented in congress, which THE OREGONIAN has opposed because they were buncombe or fraudulent; and the sequel has abundantly justified and vindicated its course It didn't fall in with the Salt Lake railroad scheme on the grounds upon which that scheme was presented, because it saw there was nothing in it. It didn't approve any proposition to hamper or strangle the Northern Pacific railroad because it perceived that such result would be of no advantage either to Eastern Oregon or any other part of the country. Nearly a year ago it foretold the consequences of these proceedings exactly as they have occurred, and it prefers an independent course which is right in itself and is justified and approved by events, to the temporary shifts and crooked courses which organs bound to the business of self seeking politicians and enslaved always to shallow expedients are forced to pursue

It is neither true that THE OREGONIAN is the "organ" of the corporation referred to or that it is generally recognized as such It exists as a newspaper as every journal worthy of the name should do. It subsists by its own legitimate business meets its obligations whenever presented and asks no favors from any quarter It is therefore not compelled to do the work of any politician faction or corporation and for similar reason it is not forced to make foolish and unjust attacks on anybody or any interest There are corporations in our state which are necessary to its welfare and prosperity One of them has a monopoly of navigation on the Columbia river But it is no more a monopoly now than it has been for twenty years past and its accommodations and its rates have steadily been made better In spite of all that is said the fact is apparent that Eastern Oregon and Washington have prospered as much during years past as the western section Yet the whole country wishes the navigation of the Columbia river were perfectly free and it must be made so This may be achieved if it be not sacrificed in the strife of politicians for their own advancement This paper knowing that the vehemence of the attack on this corporation is owing largely to the efforts of politicians to secure favor and advantage for themselves has independence and courage to say as much Knowing moreover that the country never can derive any advantage from this windy war for the gain of jobbers in politics it has exposed and exploded their schemes showing in advance how they would come to naught Drive the present corporation from the river, or if that were possible, destroy it and you must immediately have another in its place There is a middle ground of reason and sense and justice in every matter of this kind Let us get the river opened at the Cascades and Dalles as soon as we can And let us get a railroad at the earliest possible time Then will competition be established But we shall not get these results unless we work for them with honest endeavor because we want them instead of allowing such important undertakings to become the football of politicians Eliminate this political and partisan jugglery and the case will appear at once in new and more hopeful aspects It is because THE OREGONIAN wants to see results reached that it has deprecated and still deprecates the course which will produce no results Past failures in this respect are an earnest of other failures to come, unless a new line of action be taken What has been done for a year past in respect of this question and is still being urged by politicians and their organs, has far more reference to selfish contests of partisanship than to any earnest purpose to serve the country

WISDOM OF SANCHO'S GRANDMOTHER

History has not preserved to us any extended account of Sancho Panza's grandmother, but the little it has handed down shows where the chief magistrate of Barataria, who was canny as the wisest, inherited his sagacity. "There are but two lineages in the world, my grandmother used to say quoth Sancho—"the Haves and the Havenots, and she stuck to the Haves These two lineages are still in existence, but everybody isn't so wise or so fortunate as Sancho's grandmother To stick to the Haves requires great prudence and incessant industry Mainly because many don't do it the war between Haves and Havenots never comes to a truce. The agitation of which such as Kearney are exponents is a phase of the war of the Havenots on the Haves, and though it is by no means a new thing, it probably is just now rather more noisy than ever before

It is getting to be very disgraceful now, it even borders on infamy, for a person to have much of anything Years of prudence, sobriety, industry and economy are years spent very ill. Almost every man earns enough by the time he has arrived at middle age to afford him a competence, if he would only avoid spendthrift habits and save it Some do manage their income carefully and after many years they naturally are in easy or comfortable circumstances But then they are objects of the envy and hostility of others who have never acted with like discretion It becomes a crime to have houses to rent or money to lend, or to exact payment of debts and the hustings resound with the harangues of orators who denounce property and insist that government shall interpose with legislation in behalf of those who have never learned through lessons of economy and self denial to legislate for themselves

Now they talk of legislation which shall force men to employ capital in setting up establishments that shall give employment to labor and help the country And those who have money so invested are to be forced by law to reduce their profits under a mistaken notion that somehow the workingman will be aided by a policy which would prevent his employer from making anything This doesn't take into account the fact that no labor will be employed if gains cannot be made by it and, as a general thing the more prosperous an employer's business the better are the wages paid

Complaint is made that capital is not seeking investment in industrial enterprises, but is going into government bonds That it does so is largely owing to the spirit of communism in many parts of the country, which threatens the existence or the income of property in mills, factories or other establishments The torch may annihilate this species of property, as it has done in many eastern cities, but the government bond is felt to be a sure thing, and the four per cent interest with exemption from taxation makes it about as good an investment as can now be found Hence the rapidity with which the new four per cent. loan is being taken

There is a craze now for trying to do things by legislation or by vaporing speeches But the time will come when it must be learned that nothing can be gained in this way and that the only hope is in individual energy and self-dependence. We are indignant that our Indians are wanting the government to take care of them and seem unwilling to do anything to help themselves But how much better is the Kearney movement?

Corrected maps in the English papers indicate clearly the territorial changes made by the treaty of Berlin Bulgaria is 23,000 square miles in extent, and has a population of 1 800 000 The addition to the territory of Montenegro is 1 500 square miles, to Servia 3,000 square miles, to Roumania 5 000 square miles Russia gains in Besarabia 3 300 square miles, and in Asia 9 000 square miles of territory, without counting Eastern Roumelia. Turkey loses by the treaty of Berlin 71 500 square miles of territory, and 3 500,000 people

Ha! Art There, Truepenny?

[From the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle]

If the south could leave the union without firing a shot she would not do it The union means to her now profit and domination beyond her hopes and at the expense of her bitterest foes who have been blown up by their own torpedo It may be that some of the northern states are contemplating secession and that Grant is relied upon to whip them back [illegible] the fall How this is we [illegible] know But we do know that the south [illegible] she has not the slightest idea of [illegible]

CITY

ON THOSE CURS.—A correspondent who evidently has been a victim of the prevalent canine nuisance writes as follows "Of what use are half the dogs in Portland Are they kept to frighten horses in the streets to bark and snap at every passer by, to bark all night and raise cain generally? And if not, what in thunder are they kept for? Some neighborhoods are so infested with worthless curs that sleep for the tired human is quite out of the question The miserable dogs will not cease their unearthly noise for a moment and the poor tired man or woman who tries to sleep within their hearing is doomed to disappointment He or she must sit up or turn over in anguish and bemoan their fate and if they have no scruples they can swear and bestowing a small share of the well timed epithets on the dogs and the greater portion of them on the owners of them People who keep such curs on their premises ought to have a little respect for the sensibilities of others and for decency's sake, poison, drown or otherwise do away with their confounded animals Dogs of the class alluded to watch for nothing except the meal hour, and the sooner anybody gets away about five thousand of them the better for all will be done " etc.

ON THOSE CURS!—A correspondent who evidently has been a victim of the prevalent canine nuisance writes as follows "Of what use are half the dogs in Portland Are they kept to frighten horses in the streets to snap and snarl at every passer by to bark all night and raise cain generally? And if not these what in thunder are they kept for? Some neighborhoods are so infested with worthless curs, that sleep for the tired human is quite out of the question The miserable dogs do not cease their unearthly noise for a moment and the poor tired man or woman who tries to sleep within their hearing is doomed to disappointment He or she can sit up or turn over in anguish and bemoan their fate, and if they have no scruples they can swear aloud bestowing a small share of the well timed 'epithets on the dogs and the greater portion of them on the owners of them People who keep such curs on their premises ought to have a little respect for the sensibilities of others, and for decency's sake, too drown or otherwise do away with their confounded animals. Dogs of the class alluded to 'watch' for nothing except the meal hour, and the sooner anybody gets away with about five thousand of them the better Our will be done'" etc

AUDACIOUS ROBBERY

IKE BLUM'S CIGAR STORE BURGLARIZED

The most daring robbery of the season was that of Ike Blum's cigar store, corner First and Alder streets which evidently occurred at about 4 o clock yesterday morning—just daylight The special watchman had tried the doors at 3 o clock, and again just prior to reporting off duty a few minutes before 4 The doors were then found properly closed and people were moving about as usual at this particular point A bright light was burning in the store and the last thing one would have suspected was a robbery of the premises As Mr Blum himself says "An iron vault in any other building was in greater danger than his place" and he like the general public was therefore taken considerably aback on discovering that there was a man with cheek enough to walk in there When policemen can be found at no other spot they can be seen there and as Alder street is the dividing line of their beats two and three officers are frequently found on his corner at the same time To rob this store one must watch patiently for a favorable opportunity, and when it arrives the work must be done speedily The burglar's object was money and of that he succeeded in getting all that was in the store nearly $40 It was the work of a moment A glasscutter which did not do its work well was first used and then with a small cobblestone the scratched piece of glass was knocked out of the Alder street door A hole was then made sufficiently large to insert an arm This was of course done and the bolt next being withdrawn the door opened and admitted the thief An instant more and he was behind the counter where by stooping he could work unseen by the passer by During Sunday and Monday Ike handled a considerable sum of money probably as much as $800 about half of which was received from the sale of railroad excursion tickets The robbers no doubt observed this and imagined the coin was kept in the store In this they found themselves deceived and yet it is to be regretted that they secured as much as they did The money on hand was sales and collections made during the evening and Ike naturally supposed the store was as safe a place as his pocket for it Books and papers were left undisturbed Not even a cigar box was moved, and when it is known as it is that Blum has in stock imported cigars in large quantity some of which are valued at $25 per box he may congratulate himself on having got off as cheaply as he has He takes it all good naturedly and we may add has the friends and the business to soon make up the loss he has suffered

JAY GOULD

THE GREAT RAILWAY KING IN DANGER OF BEING DEPOSED—BELIEF THAT HE IS GOING UNDER

[N Y Telegram to the Chicago Tribune]

The Sun says that the shrinkage in stocks particularly the Granger shares in the past few days has seriously alarmed Wall street and yesterday morning soon after the opening there were indications of a panic Notwithstanding the heavy pressure to decline an other onslaught was begun It was reported from inside sources that Jay Gould was seriously embarrassed for money and that a loan for $200 000 had been thrown out by a well known institution the collateral being deemed insecure having been taken from rattletraps down toward the bottom of the box' Northwestern common from 39¾ tumbled to 36 to preferred from 70 to 65¾ St Paul common fell from 3[illegible] to 3[illegible] preferred from 73 to 70⅞ Other stocks participated sympathetically in the decline Except in a panic or financial crisis no such decline in such a short space of time has occurred in Wall street in years The decline in ten days is Northwestern common 15 points Northwestern preferred 12¼ points St Paul common 18 points St. Paul preferred 13¼ points The ostensible reason for this decline is the damage to crops along the lines of these roads It was estimated that these crops would not reach within thirty per cent of the previous estimates on which the rise was partially based The real reason goes farther back Since a year ago Gould has slowly but surely been losing that prestige in the stock market so essential to success While he has occasionally made some really brilliant strikes he has had to counterbalance these by some tremendous losses Notable among these have been the Pacific Mail operation the loss on Michigan Central and New York Central last fall and the Union Pacific stock jobbery This latter is and has been a millstone around his neck for years. Virtually holding all the stock with a congress proof this year against all his bribery he is unable to get rid of a share of it, and Boston and New York capitalists are already howling for a return of their money lent with Union Pacific for collateral No considerable amount of it could be sold without breaking the stock to 25, and, as Gould has little else in his cash boxes his alleged failure to effect a loan yesterday is explained

New York Republicans and the President

[From the Seneca County (N Y) Courier]

We take the Republican strongholds west of Cayuga Lake and we find that in the counties of Tioga, Tompkins Chemung Schuyler Seneca Ontario and Steuben there is not a single Republican journal sustaining the president. One out of the four in Wayne is an exception to the rule as is also a sort of half and half Republican journal in Yates We do not know of one out-and-out Republican journal in either Livingston or Allegany which sustains the president although there may be one. We find, also as far as our observation goes that this same rule holds good among the counties east of the Cayuga, and in fact through the entire state

A REBUKE

By the Judges to Albert Weber for publishing a falsehood:

"WE THE UNDERSIGNED members of the Jury of Group XXV at the Centennial Exhibition of Philadelphia 1876 do hereby certify that the following is the true basis of our recommendation for the award to Mr Albert Weber of New York viz.

For sympathetic pure and rich tone combined with greatest power as shown in a grand Piano of large dimensions These three styles grand square and upright pianos show intelligence and solidity in their construction a pliant and easy touch which at the same time answers promptly to its requirements together with excellence of workmanship

We moreover declare that the following report advertised by Mr Albert Weber as official and with our names attached thereto viz For sympathetic pure and rich tone combined with greatest power as shown in three styles grand square and upright pianos which show intelligence and solidity in their construction a pliant and easy touch which at the same time answers promptly to its requirements together with excellence of workmanship has never been made sanctioned or signed by the group of Jurors certain stated qualities found in a grand piano of large dimensions exhibited by Mr Albert Weber were wanting in his parlor grand square and upright piano

To the report advertised by Mr Weber as official the names of the group of Jurors have never been signed and if it has been so changed as advertised by him, it has been done subsequently and after the Jury had dispersed and without the authority of the group of Jurors (Signed)

A PLAIN ISSUE

A Card to the Public

From October 1876 fourteen days before the close of the Centennial exhibition—when all the machinery for investigation was at hand to this day Weber has published the following figures of the judges on pianos—given to him then and there

ORIGINAL FIGURES

WEBER

	Bristow	Kupka	Oliver	Schiedmayer
Tone	6	6	6	6
Equality	6	6	6	5
Quality	6	6	6	6
Touch	6	6	6	6
	24	24	24	23—95

Total—95 Out of a possible 96

Now, Messrs. Steinway publish, fourteen months after the close of the Centennial a different set of figures on grand Piano etc They admit publicly that while all the rest of the piano manufacturers have quietly attended to their business they have traveled thousands of miles, made two ocean voyages and carried on an immense correspondence covering thirteen months persuading confusing manipulating the judges with a slightly different result.

If Messrs Steinway or their agent here will prove that the above are not the correct original figures as handed in by the judges before the close of the Exhibition we will give to the poor of Portland our check for $500 Also if Messrs Steinway or their agents at Salem Albany The Dalles or Walla Walla will prove that their original figures were not 91 out of a possible 96 which is four less than Weber received we will give to the poor of each of the above cities our check for $500

The fact of the matter is the Weber piano has become by far too popular to suit the interest of that competing firm and they now perceive that their former prestige is fading fast before the growing popularity of Mr Weber and every possible means is being resorted to in order to crush him

Finally we would add that while it is unsafe to trust an unscrupulous concern like that of Messrs Steinway whose questionable practices and manipulations at exhibitions have become notorious and whom we believe are capable of doing any thing except sticking to the truth yet we still have so much faith in the power of truth that we are loth to believe that even they would perjure themselves and dare to come forward and swear that Weber's figures, 95 as published throughout the world BEFORE the close of the exhibition are wrong

Does any sane man or woman believe it possible that Messrs Steinway would wait thirteen months after the close of the Centennial to correct Weber's statement of figures when it could have been done while the commission itself was in Philadelphia in session in thirteen hours or surely in thirteen days? NEVER

Weber's Award signed by all the Judges reads as follows

"For sympathetic pure and rich tone combined with greatest power as shown in three styles Grand Square and Upright Pianos which show intelligence and solidity in construction a pliant and easy touch which at the same time answers promptly to its requirements together with excellence of workmanship

The above Diploma signed by every member of the Commission and Judges on Pianos, can be seen at Weber's warerooms corner Fifth Avenue and 16th street, New York at any time

Notwithstanding the desperate effort which is being made to injure the reputation of the only rival they are afraid of the Weber Piano will still continue to be the favorite with the public in the concert room and the parlor

BEAUTY: OR, THE
Secret of a Fair Face.
An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.
Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate, possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion. What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish. It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called
MAGNOLIA BALM
The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion. It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner. It removes all roughness, eruptions, redness, blotches, freckles, and tan with magical power. It drives away all evidence of fatigue and excitement. It makes the plainest face beautiful. It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face and arms appear graceful, rotund and plump. It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.
The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawback to beauty, and, while it is as harmless as water, it is so life-like in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use. Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things considered, and may be had at any drug store.

There are no changes noted in the financial situation locally The demand for funds to move the grain crop continues to show some increase but it is readily met at the rates to regular customers which have heretofore been reported.

Nothing particularly important in the way of business matters reaches us by mail or wire to day Almost every where farmers are busily engaged in gathering an immense crop of grain, the abundance of which insures a harvest year of great business activity and prosperity Prices may be regarded as low but the aggregate production being so large the added wealth to the country generally which it will bring should make it one of the most prosperous of a decade of years

The Breadstuffs Market

The market in this department begins to show a very considerable degree of activity and though leading products are in some instances low in price the demand for all staple domestic products is good and sellers willing to accept current figures, find no difficulty in placing their commodities The wheat and flour market is increasing in activity and several vessels for English ports are begining to take their cargoes, Last quotations are firmly sustained and there seems no good reason to think that prices will go much if any lower than at present at least until the foreign stocks are augmented, as they were greatly reduced when the harvest year began The movement of the wheat crop in California is now very active and the clearances average several tens of thousand centals daily There is but little doubt, that this rush of the product of that state toward the markets of demand may ultimately have a depressing effect on prices of the cereal on this coast The experience of past years teaches us that no especial date can be fixed upon at which it would be best to sell. Since our observance of the market as a matter of business which began six or eight years ago, we have seen that in one year the market has been highest at harvest in another in October and in another still in April. Hence the past affords no criterion from which to judge of the future in this respect.

English Crops and Markets.

LONDON Aug. 12.—The Mark Lane Express says reports regarding the yield of wheat are various, but generally speaking the harvest promises an improvement on last year's There are several districts particularly Norfolk Cambridgeshire and parts of Essex where an opposite opinion obtains, and complaints are rife of badly filled ears blight and rust. Farther north appearances improve. In Lancashire and Yorkshire crops look healthier and heavier than for some years. In Scotland and Ireland there are equally favorable hopes. Conflicting accounts are issued regarding barley but where early sown the crop will not leave much to be desired although it has suffered from flood and drought. Very few samples of new wheat have appeared and until supplies come in more freely little can be said regarding the quality. An occasional parcel was shown in Mark Lane, for which growers demand fancy prices, but business will probably settle down into its ordinary course this week Supplies of old are necessarily very light, with such moderate inquiry as is to be expected during harvest time. Prices have undergone no quotable change Imports of foreign wheat into London were very moderate, Friday's return showing only 9,500 quaters. There was a decided improvement in trade, especially in foreign for which ready sale was experienced at one shilling increase and in some instances a greater advance. Much of the Russian wheat, recently imported arrived in a heated unsaleable state Advices from St. Petersburg indicate that a very large proportion of the granaried stocks is in a defective condition, and almost certain to heat during the summer voyages. It is probable prices will rule low for this class of wheat for some time to come. The somewhat unsettled weather and continued continental demand for wheat, both here and in America have imparted a firmer tone to the trade. Values have improved from six pence to a shilling for cargoes off and for shipment. Maize is nearly six pence dearer, Barley unsettled

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Acute Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself, Diseases of the Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make Be sure and ask for R PAUL M BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door

New System of Wagon Brakes.

TRULLINGER PATENT BRAKE.

NO SHOES TO WEAR OUT TIRES!

No Brake Bar used. Will hold a Wagon anywhere from Backing or going Forward.

THIS NEW BRAKE NOW BEING INTRODUCED by the inventor J C Trullinger is a combination of friction gear applied to the hub of a wagon It is simple and light yet has more strength and durability than any other wagon brake now in use It is so attached to the wagon that it is out of the way of the gearing yet always reliable and at hand when required Any teamster or mechanic can see at once its utility and effective force to hold a load on a down grade or to prevent horse backing when required The Brake is made entirely of iron no wooden part being necessary as no brake bar is used hence it does not carry mud and is not effected by wet and muddy or icy roads.

We invite critical examination as we believe its merits can be demonstrated to any party who uses or understands a wagon brake

Butler on Kearney and the Press.

NEW YORK Aug 14—The Herald reporter interviewed Butler yesterday He said Kearney is not indorsed by me, and he knows his own business as I do mine. Swelling with indignation cheeks puffing and voice cast in high pitch Oh, the lying press, the infamous lying press of Massachusetts, asserted that I brought the man east, that I paid him money to go on What fair play can be expected from such liars. You know what God says in the Bible about lying, but let that pass I have nothing to do with Kearney whatever He has come east to please himself The true and honest things he may utter have my approval, and the foolish and absurd I can only grieve over. I believe he means honorably, though he may have an unusual style of expression, but you can't expect roses from thistles, and you must look to the nature of causes which produce such men and make them possible Kearney is here not by my invitation he is here, as I understand, solely and wholly on his own responsibility
